President's Message

By Lynda J. Straker

Greetings, MBU Family,

As we approach the summer season, please be excited by the many opportunities presented by the MBU and the ABA to play your best bridge and to support the organizations dedicated to our favorite pastime.

Check your MBU calendar for sanctioned games scheduled for July, August and September and participate in as many as possible. Plan to attend the Summer National in Atlanta which promises to offer not only bridge but interesting and worthwhile activities in and around Atlanta.

Our first sanction free Special "A" Game on July 1, 2019 is the first of its kind – in the MBU at least. The ABA Constitution provides for an "A" game and or "C" game when the Unit has sponsored duplicate bridge educational activities for new players and throughout the Unit.

Planning for our 2019 "AAA" is underway and we need the support of everyone in the MBU. While this event is popular throughout all sections of the ABA, we are hoping for full participation of all MBU members. To this end, I will circulate a survey among the membership to (1) identify the reasons why members do not attend and (2) to determine if the MBU can address those reasons to increase participation. The survey will be released via email and Club Presidents will have paper copies to distribute. Please watch for the survey in your email.

We will not hold a quarterly meeting in July. Yvonne Ebea will be leading the nominating committee that will present a slate for the election of new MBU officers at the October 2019 membership meeting. Voting will take place at our January 2020 meeting.

Good luck to all who are planning to attend the Summer National in Atlanta. Play your best bridge and have a great time!

See you at the tables,

Aces & Knaves The Film

By Dolores Watson

A rewarding experience awaits you in this 60-minute provocative documentary Aces & Knaves, as it explores through a series of micro-interviews, the love, dedication and awe bridge players have for this special game.

To my surprise, two familiar faces flashed by: Alfred Knight and Jimmy Pelham, both MBU members. Sorry, I don't know which tournament or where. Renowned Bill Gates, Microsoft giant, was spotlighted as an avid player.

The game reflects life, as elite players express the emotional investment, commitment of time and mental concentration required toward mastery. The Aces (principled) use honed skills to win; Knaves (unprincipled) use fraud to win. The World Championship competition arena is one of sponsorship and high financial gain.

What makes this film outstanding is it shines light on the difficult decision made by Boye Brogeland, a top professional world champion player from Norway, to blow the whistle on his fellow competitors and expose them as world-class CHEATERS.

This is not the first bridge scandal tribunal authorities have uncovered but it is the first made into a documentary for the general public to see. It took a team of code breakers working tedious hours into days to analyze gestures, card and board movements to determine illegal information was being passed from partner to partner.

When Aces & Knaves comes to the New York area, members will be informed of showing venue. Click here to view trailer.

"Duplicate bridge is not just a card game, it's an endless intellectual adventure."

If it's Friday, There's Bridge in Brooklyn!

By Jane Atlas

Brooklynites' June 14 double-session "B" Game included a graduation ceremony with Pomp and Circumstance between the sessions. Regular Friday games begin at 11 am.

Congratulations to Brooklynites John Hopkins and Inez Lambert, the second-place winners at our May 10 Herman Huff Scholarship game.

At the May MBU quarterly meeting, President Lynda Straker congratulated Brooklynites Dorene Christmas and Jane Atlas on having attained the new level of Master.

Brooklynites were well represented at the ABA Spring National tournament in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Headquarters notified Jane Atlas that she will be presented the Asterisk Player award during the 2019 Summer National. Congrats Jane.

Get well wishes to Brooklynite Lucille Wilkinson in the Susan B. McKinney Rehabilitation facility, and to Associate Member Jerry Cunningham who is out of the hospital and recuperating at home.

Westbury DBC

By Patricia Binyard

The Westbury Bridge Club thanks the entire Metropolitan Bridge Unit for supporting our recent "B" game. We had outstanding attendance from all the clubs in the organization along with the most positive feedback. We especially thank our club and associate members for all their efforts in making this a fun and successful event with a special "shout-out" going to Jeraldine Odoms for hosting our plentiful breakfast.

Our club is now closed for the summer and will reopen the second Tuesday in September (September 10, 2019) at the "Yes We Can" Center at 6 pm. We look forward to seeing you at our "C" game on September 24. Lunch at 11:30 am with the game to follow at 12:30 pm.

DBC of Mount Vernon

By Rita Thompson

We had the pleasure of hosting several visitors during June. When asked how they heard about our club, they said "we picked up a flyer at the United Federation of Teachers in the Bronx where we take bridge lessons. The flyer also mentioned there's a lesson by Dr. Mehta before the game." Club President Charles Guest was pleased to see that our publicity endeavors are paying off as well as the good will engendered by DBCMV members Parvez Mehta and Alfred Knight who both teach bridge at the UFT.

Our club is open throughout the summer months. We play every Monday—refreshments at 5 pm; game at 6 pm. Please join us.

Astro Duplicate Bridge Club

By Doris White

Greetings bridge family. Astro is alive and well thanks to our erstwhile president, Julia Rinehardt, and associate member Edna Boothe. We were saddened by the death of our long-time member Rupert Mitchell who passed in March. He was a fixture in the bridge world having served as director, teacher and mentor to many.

We still meet every Thursday at 12:30 pm. Thank you for your support. We will be closed on August 8 and 15 during the Summer National in Atlanta, Georgia.

Martha and Calvin, we miss you.

Springfield DBC

By Eliza Brann

Greetings from Springfield Duplicate Bridge Club. Missing at the table: June Robinson continues to get stronger. Give her a shout out when you can. Evelyn and Moses Smallwood are keeping up with appointments.

Springfield will be open during July and August. Please join us! Check your calendars and email.

Twilight DBC

By Jesse Palmer

Father's Day and the beginning of summer have passed and we are preparing for our 4th of July celebrations. Birthday shout outs to Pearl S. Bostic in July; Mercedes Mann and Gloria Johnson in September.

We are happy to announce that Shirley Gross is home after a brief hospital stay. Remember to keep Shirley in your prayers.

Congratulations to all the winners at the Eastern Section Spring Fling held in Atlantic City.

As always please come and play with us on Thursdays at 1630 St Marks Place, Brooklyn, New York. Lunch is served at noon and the game begins at 1 pm.

Triangle DBC

By Bernice Williams

Greetings from Triangle Duplicate Bridge Club of the village of Harlem. Hope all are well and preparing for the 2019 Summer National Tournament in Georgia to enjoy the games and what that state has to offer. My experience at games there was pleasant and satisfying.

Our new members are enjoying the camaraderie involved. We are pleased and will continue to foster their growth in the organization.

Belated June birthday wishes to Annie Nelson and Charlotte Cottman, who is on sabbatical. Yours truly has one coming on the 28th of August.

Well bridge players, enjoy life until next time.

CALCULATING GAME SCORES

This article addresses a question posed by a new player. She wanted to know how her score was calculated. She thought she did well because she "won" most of the boards. She presented her score card with most of the entries in the "plus" column and did not understand why the press sheet indicated that she had a poor game.

We are used to the idea that a plus score is good and a minus score is bad. This is not always the case in duplicate bridge. We need to understand how the game is scored. When we have a good understanding of the scoring system, it can help to improve our game because we are able to make better decisions at the table.

There are two basic types of duplicate bridge played in clubs and tournaments:

Pairs

In a pairs game, you play with one partner and sit either North/South or East/West. You play two or three boards at a table (this is called a round) and then the East/West pair moves to another table and plays other boards against other opponents. Scoring is done by match points.

Teams

In a team game, you play on a team of four to six players. Your team plays against another team of players for the duration of the match. You and your partner take either North/South or East/West at one table, and your teammates take the other direction at a second table. The opposing team does the same. Scoring is done by International Match Points (IMPs).

Match Point Scoring

In a duplicate bridge pair game, your score is "matched" against all the pairs sitting in the same direction. If you are sitting North/South, you are hoping to get a higher score than the other North/South pairs who have played the same board. If you are sitting East/West, you are hoping to beat the other East/West scores.

You get one match point for each pair you beat and one-half match point for each pair you tie. Your score on a board is the actual number of match points you scored on that board. The "top" on a board is based on the number of pairs that play that board. If nine pairs play a board, the top is eight, (the number of pairs you can possibly beat). The average on the board, one-half of top, is four. It does not matter by how much you beat or lost to a particular pair. All that matters is that you beat them or lost to them. On the recap sheet, your raw score is shown, and the match points are shown above the raw score.

Match Points*	4	3	1-	1-	0
Raw Score	420	170	140	140	100

*1- = 1.5, 2- = 2.5, etc.

In table form, the above would look like:

Pair	Contract	Score	Match Points	Comment
1	4♥N making	420	4	Top score (beat 4 pairs)
2	3♥N making 4	170	3	Beat 3 pairs
3	3♥N making	140	1.5	Beat 1 pair and tied another
4	3♥N making	140	1.5	Beat 1 pair and tied another
5	3♠E down 1	100	0	Bottom (even though score is positive, it is the lowest)

At the end of the session, your score is calculated by adding up the match points you earned on each board. The pair with the greatest number of match points is the winner in that direction. Your score for the game is usually expressed as a percentage.

Your percentage is calculated by dividing your score by the total number of match points possible on all the boards you played; that fraction is then multiplied by 100 to convert it to a percentage. For example, in a nine-table game with 24 boards, the match point maximum is 192. (8 match points on each board x 24 boards). If your match point score was 96, that would be a 50% game. A 55+% game is considered to be good and should usually earn you some master points. A 60+% game is excellent and will often result in a 1st or 2nd place finish.

In match point scoring, each board you play represents the same percentage of your total score. Each board is important, so you must be focused at all times. Over-tricks are crucial, an over trick can mean a big difference in your match point score. You only compare your results with pairs sitting in the same direction. You need to maximize your score when you are declarer and minimize the opponents' score when defending.
